
Both panels use the same residual construction (W_s zero-initialised, magnitude limited by $\sigma(g)$); they differ in what the main path does with scale.